The Chimes Ring Out The Spirit of '76

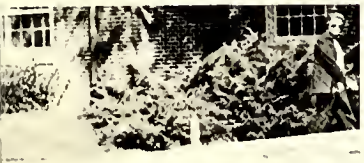

Freedom's song breaks forth
In triumphant jubilation
As students of Pfeiffer College join
Our nation's Bicentennial celebration.

Our Bicentennial
commemorates
Hard Struggles, toil, and strife
That America might grow
and thrive
With liberty in life.

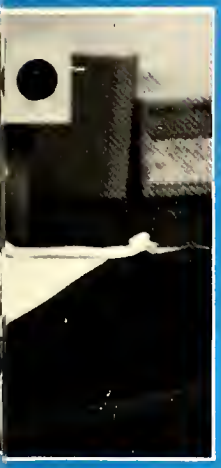

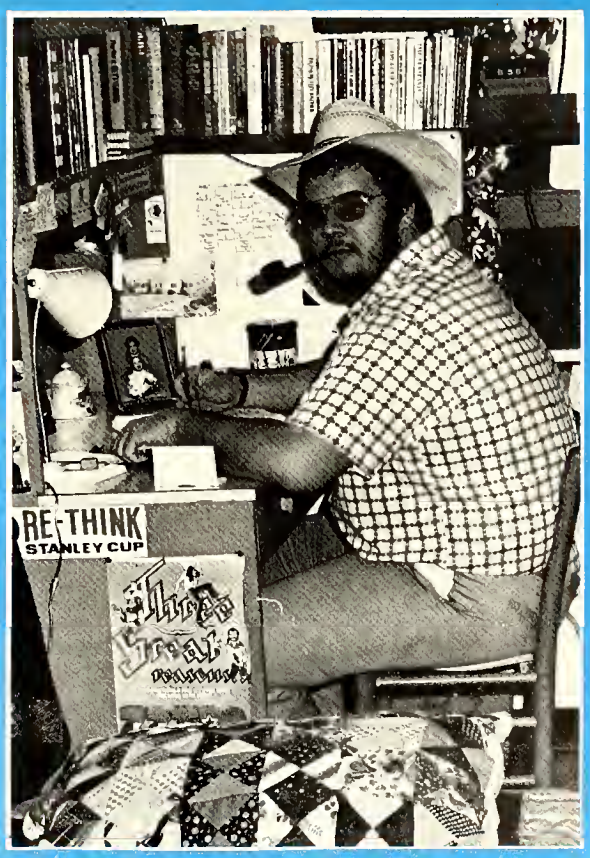

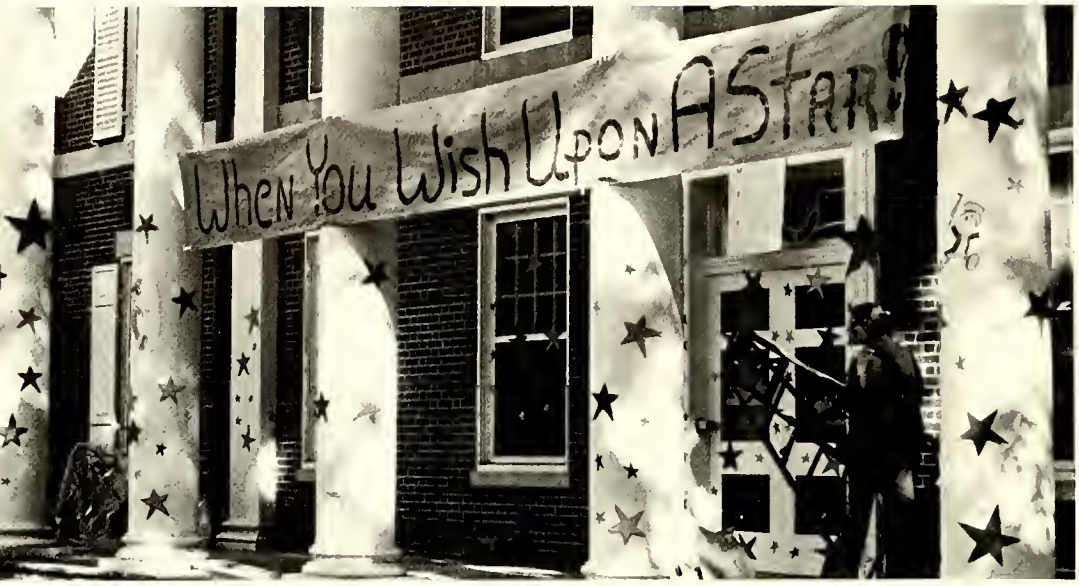

RE-THINK
STANLEY CUP

When You Wish Upon A Star!

The cry for independence
Like chimes rang loud and clear
Proclaiming the radiant spirit
Found in our land so dear.

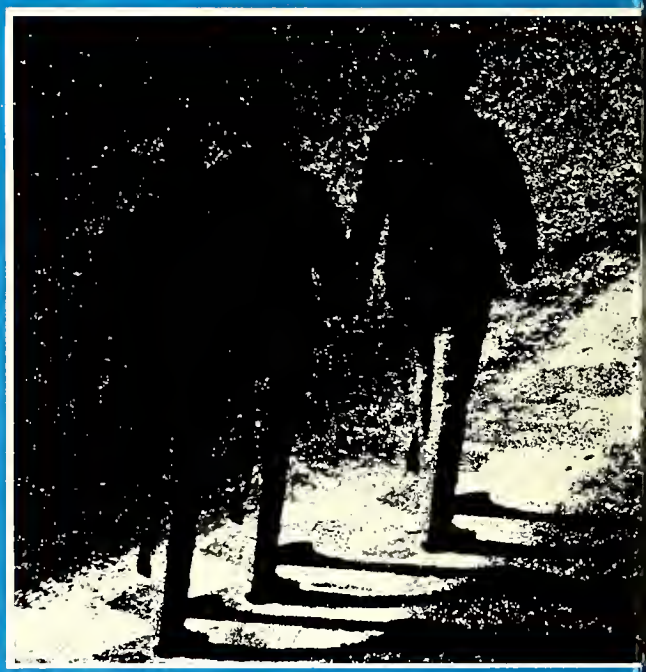

The proclamation rang far and wide
To declare to all the land
That America, "under God,"
Was free from Britain's hand.

NEW

Now two hundred years after this gain
We often forget the strife.
That gave us the freedom we enjoy
With a full abundant life.

As we reflect upon this heritage
A spirit of pride swells within,
And we realize the gift God
bestowed
To a nation indebted to him.

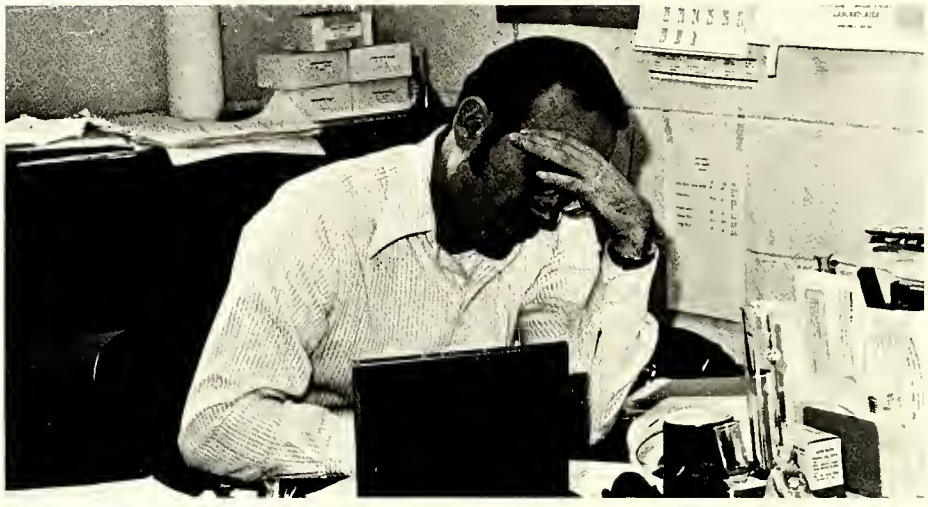

The Spirit of '76 rings out
Through pictures, words, and song,
As the CHIMES of Pfeiffer honors
those Who made our nation great and strong.

Homecoming — 1975
"Disney On Parade"

Homecoming, always a highlight, proved once again to be one of this year's most outstanding events. The College Union Board co-ordinated the entertainment beginning with an old-fashioned square dance on Thursday, October 2. Students were encouraged by the music of the Metrolina Bluegrass Boys, and slowly they began to acquire a few of the "stomping skills."

Friday night brought with it the music of the Spontanes and the semi-formal dance sponsored by the sophomore class. Even Donald and Daisy Duck made an appearance at this event bringing to life the Disney characters on the wall.

The theme "Disney on Parade" prevailed on Saturday as the front campus came alive with the traditional carnival. Everyone was surrounded with a virtual market place full of games, booths, pie throwing, crafts, and much more. The morning ended with a parade featuring the Homecoming Court beauties, cartoon characters, floats, and band. The highlight of the day appeared on the soccer field as the team won a resounding victory against Elon, and the 1975 Homecoming Queen was crowned — Miss Patti Edwards.

Festivities ended Saturday night with a live concert by two groups, Ambrosia and Atlanta Rhythm Section.

Chemistry Seminar

High School students invaded the Pfeiffer College Chemistry Labs for a High School Chemistry Seminar held during the fall semester. Under the direction of Pfeiffer College American Chemical Society, the local youths were given a proper introduction to the lab equipment and instruments. A magic show brought the event to an end and hopefully, the area youth left with a bit more appreciation for what Pfeiffer College is meant to be.

Ed Kilbourne in Concert

From the mountains of Colorado to Misenheimer came Ed Kilbourne, singer/song writer, recording artist and friend of Pfeiffer College. Appearances at Pfeiffer are becoming a regular thing for this young performer who is one of the most popular with the students. The Christian Life Council and The Association of Women Students pooled funds in order to secure Ed for Feb. 12, just in time for Winter Festival activities. Wherever Kilbourne goes, he takes with him the magnetic humor, mellow voice and magic guitar which make him such a performer and always he takes his dynamic faith which makes him such a sharer. The humor, the talent, the faith — they always come across and Thursday, Feb. 12th was no different for Eddie or his listeners.

A Williamsburg Christmas

Pfeiffer students have the unique priviledge of celebrating Christmas twice — the first begins before any exams have a chance to weight the spirit down. Faculty, staff, and students unite to transform the campus into a little Williamsburg and in the process, succumb to the pleasures of Yuletide's carefree spirit.

Saturday was designated for the "hanging of the greens" and by mid-afternoon the dorms, Chapel, Library, Administration building and even Jane Freeman and Merner Center were sporting evergreens sprinkled with red, candles in the front windows, nuts and fruit and paper used in the most decorative of ways and towering Christmas trees complete with homemade trimmings. Yet to come and spur spirits along were the Yule logs ceremony, live nativity scene, AGO's candlelight service and the Symphonic Choir's contribution — the Christmas Concert always a high light. Exams did come but they found Pfeiffer in much better spirits. A very important part of these students' Christmas had past and December 25th was yet to come.

Godspell

On November 5-9 the Pfeiffer College Drama Department presented "Godspell," the play based on the Gospel according to Matthew which tells of the teachings and the crucifixion of Jesus Christ. The cast was led by King Van Nostrand as Jesus Christ and Waverly Rainey as Judas. In supporting roles were Amy Lawrence, Terry Welch, Tommy Aldridge, Craig Collins, Phil Howard, Libby Haggard, Lawana Idol, and Robin Woodruff.

The Drama Workshop presented "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs in the Black Forest" for the Pfeiffer students and surrounding community, on December 8-9, 1975. The play was intended as a spoof of the original fairy tale and the actors played their roles to the hilt. The cast included Lori Staton as Snow White, Holly Rawlins as Queen Bellah, Gene McGaskill as King Absent-Minded, and Phill Howard as the Charming Prince. Each of the three performances was filled to the brim with laughter and fun for both young and old, in the cast as well as the audience.

Rick Warner — Pantomime Artist

Rick Warner, a reknown pantomime artist, presented "Young Buster Keaton" in the chapel on September 17, 1975. Rick uses both the ancient and newer forms of pantomime. Performing before a full capacity chapel crowd, he kept the Pfeiffer audience spell-bound. Not only did he perform, but he also gave the audience a chance to participate and learn a few simple techniques.

The 1975-76 year showed an increase in enrollment as 1,034 students welcomed the beginning of school. Excited and bewildered freshmen began arriving on August 20. Student leaders who had been on campus since August 17 greeted new students and introduced them to the Pfeiffer lifestyle. Going to assemblies, taking tests, meeting new friends, adapting to dorm life — all are familiar experiences the first week of college life.

April Festival

"America . . . You're Not Getting Older, You're Getting Better"

The 1976 April Festival exploded with excitement as the campus came alive with historical figures from America's past. A square dance sponsored by CLC was held on Thursday, April 21 at the Ervin Complex with music by The Metrolina Bluegrass Boys.

CBS-TV sportswriter and news commentator Heywood Hale Broun gave a stimulating address on Friday.

On Saturday the front campus came alive for "The Big Celebration." Many new booths were exhibited and the lawn was full of people trying their skills in new games. The parade carried the court to the baseball field where the queen, Jeanne Sweat, was crowned.

The festivities ended with a semi-formal dance held for the first time at the Stanly County Country Club in Badin.

Bicentennial Commencement

The 1976 Spring Commencement exercises were held on May 16 at 10:30 a.m. in the Garfield David Merner Center for Health and Physical Education. Dr. Edwin Davies Harrison, the Executive Vice President and Director of the J.P. Stevens and Company, Inc. textile chain in New York City, delivered the Commencement Address. Dr. Harrison was the President of the Georgia Institute of Technology from 1957 to 1969.

Pfeiffer College President Douglas Reid Sasser presided over the exercises and awarded three honorary degrees during the ceremony. These degrees were presented to Dr. Bonnie E. Cone — Doctor of Public Service, Rev. Donald W. Haynes — Doctor of Divinity, and Mr. Henry Thomas Webb, Jr. — Doctor of Public Administration.

Approximately one hundred and twenty students received the Bachelor of Arts Degree as conferred by Dr. Sasser.

Two student awards were announced by Mr. Kenneth D. Holshouser during the service. The Citizenship Award given by the faculty each year was presented to Jeannie Sweat. Recognition for the student with the highest average in the senior class went to Robert Lyerly. He had a 9.9 out of a possible 10.0 on the academic scale.

As always, graduates were filled with mixed emotions as they recessed from the gym — happiness over hard work and achievement, sadness over leaving behind and separating from cherished friendships.

As new, and as different as the faces of the 1975 Falcon Soccer Team, so marked the spirit and charisma of the entire student body which faithfully followed this young squad . . . to a dramatic NAIA District Championship. With the Falcons winning 13 matches and losing only 3, such schools as Duke, N.C. State and Campbell College fell victim to our Pfeiffer Team.

As the season began, the rains came testing the ability of the young Falcon squad. However, Dave Salvesan (above with ball) and Robert Hinch (10) failed to let up as Pfeiffer demolished Greensboro College 14-1. Carey Saul (rt.) constantly fed the line as St. Andrews fell 11-1.

Ron Berger gives the extra effort as Pfeiffer wins over N.C. State 3-1.

Roger Gompers lines up for a shot as Pfeiffer defeats Duke 1-0.

Pride and teamwork molded the Falcons into an exceptional soccer team. As Methodist, Catawba, Elon, Campbell, Atlantic Christian, Guilford and UNC-Greensboro fell in defeat, the fans knew that soccer '75 was here to stay, and they loved it.

Mike Stroff makes a save while Harry Chaffey (22) protects him and Matt Groff (24) covers. Pfeiffer defeated Belmont Abbey 2-1 to win the District Championship because of team work and defense.

and Number One in Total Defense

Winter found the Falcons again playing soccer. However, the indoor brand of competition is vastly different from the outdoor type. An indoor tournament, with forty other teams entered, proved too tough for the birds as they ended up twelfth in the scoring column.

Spring soccer consisted of numerous clinics to promote our favorite sport and organize summer leagues. Pfeiffer also was a member of the Mid-Western Piedmont Soccer Association. Though the emphasis was off hard practices and conditioning, the team enjoyed relaxed Sunday afternoon matches.

WOMEN'S FIELD HOCKEY

With a combination of talents, the ladies formed a strong team to claim a 6-4-4 season.

For the first time in Pfeiffer history, women's field hockey came into existence and was a huge success.

It's Team Effort That Gets The Goals!

Control of the ball and speed are prime features of the sport.

The team was composed of a number of women with varied talents. Some were "beginners" & some were recruited.

For Pfeiffer Women's Basketball, the 1975-76 season was a succession of superb play and broken records. The "female Falcons" consistently filled the court with dynamic play, continually scrambling, pushing, stretching and always giving just a little bit more. Coach Lonnie Chandler took a team of young but experienced girls and produced more than just a winning team. The season's record of 16 wins and 7 losses leaves most of the story untold. Freshman super star Robin Simpson amassed an amazing 22 assists in one game, 265 assists for the season garnished with 265 steals and 219 points. Leading scorer Kim Dudney broke women's scoring records with a season total of 425 and an 18.5 average, and 240 rebounds. Lou Hauser outdated the women's steals record with 16 in one game. Of course record breakers never carry the whole load and the entire Falcon squad worked unlimited hours to make this year's team one of the finest squads to ever grace the gym floor. One final record speaks well to their prowess — the 1976 women Falcons broke the school scoring record of all time with 115 points against nearby foe UNC-Charlotte. No doubt about it — next year's team has its work cut out for the best is hard to beat.

Team's Dedication To Chandler

We, the Pfeiffer Girls' Basketball Team, wish to extend our gratitude and deep appreciation to Coach Lonnie Chandler for the time and effort he has contributed to our team and for the great foundation he has laid for future teams. Once again, "Thanks, Coach, we love you!"

Swimming

Pfeiffer College started off its very first season in swimming competitions this year. The team traveled to Asheville, Greensboro, Charlotte, Chapel Hill and Durham. Its members, consisting of both men and women, followed a challenging schedule and fought off opponents well. At J.C. KARATE

A new and unusual course was offered at Pfeiffer this year. Under the heading Combative Sports, karate became a part of the college's activity program. Providing instruction for the class was junior Lee Porter, a Law Enforcement major (pictured at right). Lee is an assistant instructor for Bob Misenheimer, a fourth-degree Black Belt from Salisbury.

Interest in karate was quite high; one class was offered the first semester, and two the second. Over fifty students received instruction during the course of the year. Several earned the rank of Yellow Belt, one earned his Orange Belt, and one advanced to Blue Belt status. The style of karate taught was really not karate at all, rather it was Tae Kwon Do, a Korean form of fighting which emphasized the use of kicks. The students here, however, were taught the more modern, improved type now dominating the United States karate scene. Participants learned not only techniques from Tae Kwon Do, but also from karate and boxing. Students learned the basic mechanical aspects of karate: punching, kicking, blocking, and various types of footwork. Emphasis was also placed on freefighting techniques later in the course.

Student Government Association

Executive Council

The Student Government Association has many responsibilities. The 1975-76 SGA added some new facets to this year's program. One of these was a High School Student Leadership Conference held in November. This brought leaders from area high schools together in a workship designed to "better" Student Government work on that level.

One new emphasis in the SGA was the revitalization of the Lake Project Committee. This committee has done much and is planning more to improve and clean-up one of the most favorite spots on campus.

The SGA was also responsible for the organization of such events as Orientation, Homecoming, and April Festival.

to unify in conjunction with Christian Life Council all campus activities so that there shall be more student participation in campus organizations, to further co-ordinate organizational activities for accomplishing major school objectives, to instigate new club projects and club participation, to promote interest and progressive participation by inactive organizations, to provide more adequate cultural programs on campus, to co-ordinate the schedule of organizational meetings and activities, and to serve as reviewing body for student interest groups wishing to affiliate with Pfeiffer College.

This year the ICC voted into its membership two new organizations, the Black Alliance and the Sociology, Criminal Justice, and Social Work Club.

Christian Life Council

The Christian Life Council, which directs the Religious life on the campus, is a group bonded together by more than a mere election. Their purpose is to unite the campus through ties of Christian love and responsibility to God. This, the council attempts to achieve through various activities such as the Fall Retreat where over eighty students gathered together at Ft. Caswell on the beach. Other special projects included three square dances and two religious concerts.

The CLC and its member organizations run the Linen Service as well as the Chapel Services and Vespers. Their goal is to be where the students need them whether the role is "traditionally" Christian or not. Religious Emphasis Week is always a high-point for the council and this year's guest, Bob Tuttle, touched many with his comments and challenges.

Still the group does more than serve the students. Perhaps even more important, it challenges them to become servants as well. Because of CLC, students have the option to work with Fellowship Teams on week-end retreats at various churches. One of the newest and most exciting of the outreach missions sends a group to a nearby nursing home every Thursday afternoon.

And there were many more activities . . . the winter retreat, weekly Bible Studies, vans to a nearby coffee house and more. But the most vital mission remains the same — to help students become servants to one another and to others. In the spirit of Christian love, this is the Christian Life.

The Christian Education Fellowship is an organization for those interested in the area of Christian Education. It strives to promote worship, study, fellowship, and service among students who are interested in Christian Education.

This year the CEF enjoyed carrying out its purpose through a variety of ways. This included: folk dancing, a day camp workshop, a variety of worship services, and a supplementary about the General Conference. These are only a few of the activities of the Christian Education Fellowship.

Kappa Chi

Kappa Chi is a fraternity for those interested in Christian ministry. The purpose of this group is to provide and promote instruction and inspiration through which the members may share in worship, fellowship and service based on high Christian ideals.

United Methodist Student Movement

The United Methodist Student Movement is designed to unify Methodist students by promoting religious growth, strengthening Christian ideals, and encouraging service to the college community.

UMSM is a campus-wide organization with an open membership to all students. Central activities include fellowship, recreation, and community projects.

Baptist Student Union

The Baptist Student Union, with members of various backgrounds, is designed to bring students together in a bond of Christian Fellowship. This year, BSU sponsored the Thanksgiving Chapel Service where David Moore, from the Department of Campus Ministries in Raleigh, presented the message. Encouraged by suggestions and new ideas offered by Mr. Moore, the BSU is revitalizing its program and thus is increasing the involvement and dedication of its members. The Baptist Student Union works with the Christian Life Council in various ways, one of which is manning the Linen Service once a month. The group added to the April Festival festivities with a booth called "Drown the Devil" sparking much fun and laughter and resulting in some pretty wet members. Two representatives attended the Baptist Student Union Spring Conference at Ridgecrest, N.C. and a contribution was sent to the Baptist Summer Missions Fund. The year was highlighted by a swimming party for the children of Nazareth's home. With hard work and determination on the part of members and advisor Rev. Dehilliger, the Baptist Student Union has increased its ministry and it is in this way that it achieves its purpose.

Missions Club

The Missions Club is for those individuals who feel that their own ministry is a mission and wish to explore the area of missions in a spirit of fellowship. Planned programs vary between foreign missions, home missions and personal missions. The meetings emphasize the need for fellowship with one another and concern for others in the community and foreign places. The group is involved in various projects such as selling plants at the April Festival Carnival. Still, the main purpose is to help students to better understand their Christian mission within their own lives for both today and tomorrow.

Fellowship Teams

Fellowship Teams are a branch of CLC which is made up of several teams dedicated to the purpose of serving others in the light of Christian witness. By invitation these teams work with youth groups in churches not only in the Charlotte area but also around Asheville and parts of South Carolina. This year one team was formed to go each week to visit a local nursing home in Albemarle to share with the elderly in song, companionship, and Christian witness.

These band together a group of persons with related interests in social work and give them an opportunity to share ideas with one another and try to find solutions to problems.

Debbie Leach reported, "Many possibilities are open to us. As a social organization, we can become better acquainted with our colleagues and their particular interests. With the power provided by our status as a group, we can draw upon information, predictions, and contacts regarding immediate interests as well as professional employment opportunities."

Chimes

The CHIMES is the Pfeiffer College yearbook published to accurately portray all phases of campus life. Early in the fall the staff sent out questionnaires to try to get students involved by giving their ideas and opinions.

Hunter representative Ed Goldston made several visits to introduce the staff to various aspects of yearbook layout and design. They found the slide show "Layouts that Work" a very helpful presentation.

In order to learn more techniques, editor Mary Steele went to New York City for the 52nd Convention of the Columbia Scholastic Press Association held March 11-13. The CSPA is not only for yearbooks but also for student newspapers and magazines.

At the beginning of the year the staff established guidelines by which they wished to publish the yearbook. The following is taken from these standards:

"The members of the CHIMES staff feel that it is their responsibility to publish a yearbook which will be a memorable recollection of the life of Pfeiffer College during the 1975-76 academic year . . . It not only should be a memorandum, but it should also be a reliable record of the academic year . . .

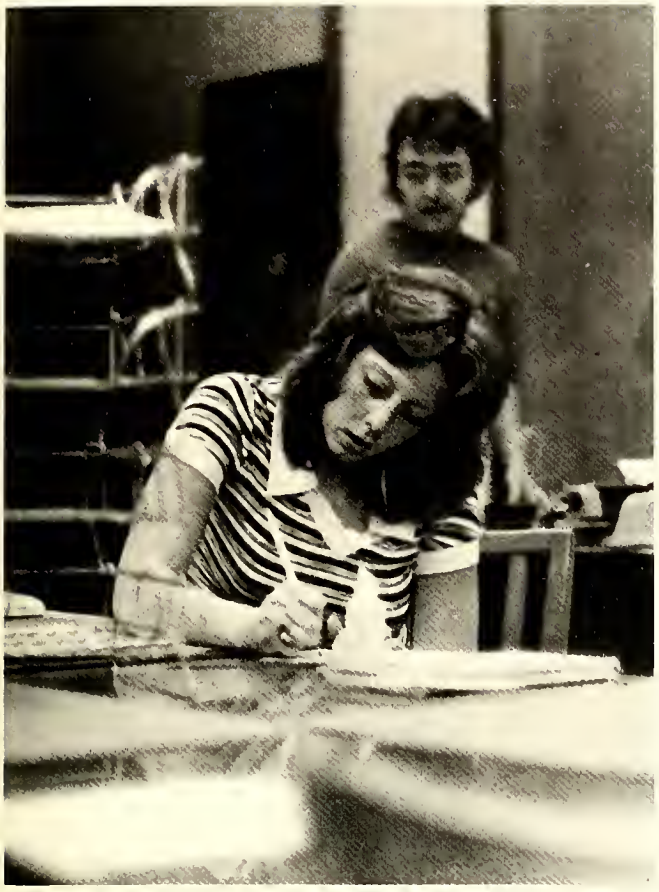

The yearbook should protray life of the Pfeiffer campus in a realistic manner and true perspective. It should include the wide variety of campus activities, events, and persons. These should be presented in the yearbook without knowingly embarrassing anyone, without using abusive language or suggestive poses, and without any unnecessary degradation of campus activity."

WSPC Radio

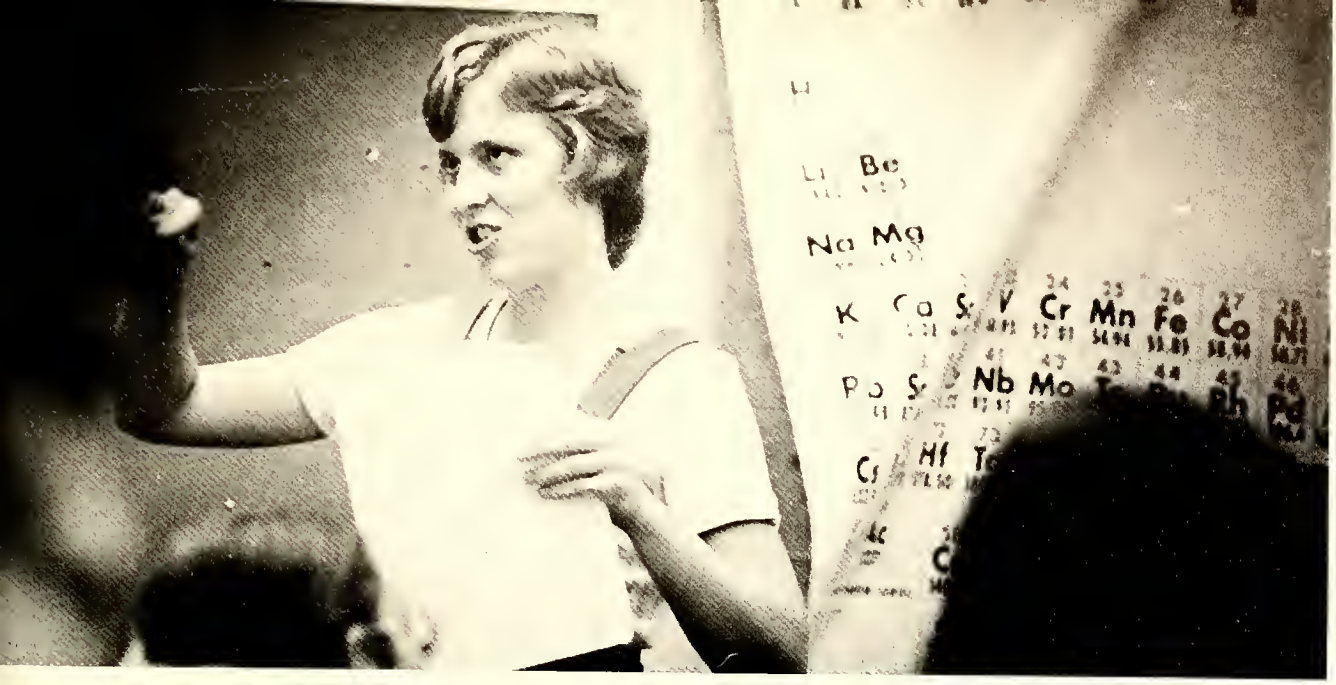

During the year WSPC Radio 580 expanded operating hours to a record of twelve hours daily. With permission from Golden Circle Broadcasting, the remaining twelve hours rebroadcast the programming of WKZL (FM) from Winston-Salem. This kept the radio frequency alive 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

The College Chaplain

Chaplain James Eric Pierce is a vital member of the Pfeiffer community. He came to the college in 1972 as Chaplain and an instructor in the Sociology Department. In addition to these positions, he serves as advisor to the Christian Life Council and the College Union Board, and is a counselor to all students. Chaplain Pierce gives more than his name to these organizations. He brings imagination, an innovative mind, and great energy to service projects, social functions, and religious worship experiences. In everything, his greatest concern is meeting needs of students to improve the quality of student life and make our community an ever better place to live.

". . . would the honest patriot, in the full tide of successful experiment, abandon a government which has so far kept us free and firm on the theoretic and visionary fear that this Government, the world's best hope, may by possibility want energy to preserve itself? I trust not. I believe this, on the contrary, the strongest Government on earth. I believe it the only one where every man, at the call of the law, would fly to the standard of the law, and would meet invasions of the public order as his own personal concern. Sometimes it is said that man can not be trusted with the government of himself. Can he, then, be trusted with the government of others? Or have we found angels in the forms of kings to govern him? Let history answer this question."

Thomas Jefferson
